Thomas McNeely has removed his family from Mineral Park to Kingman, where it is the intention to build a residence.

C. M. Stowe returned this week from Jacksonville, Fla., where he was called last month by the illness and death of his good wife.

George A. Bonelli was in Phoenix several days this week attending a meeting of the state stockmen's association. He is president of the county association and one of the delegates to the gathering at the capital city.

C. C. Hutchison, one of the largest sheep owners in the state, is in Kingman, having come here from Phoenix to look after the shearing of his flocks that are being grazed in this section. The work of shearing is now going on at Hackberry, and later another large flock will be sheared at Kingman.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Willis, of New York, were Kingman visitors this week. Mrs. Willis is the author of many delightful stories of the southwest, and her delineations of Indian character is vivid and realistic. She is here to get new ideas and new material for future stories.

J. E. White, at one time general manager of the Quartette mine, at Searchlight, Nevada, has just completed an examination of the San Francisco mining claims for the Yucca Mining company. Mr. White is now a resident of Cimarron, New Mexico, and has engaged in the work of general engineering.

Eli Hilly and an eastern mining engineer went out to the mouth of the Grand Canyon, a few days ago, where an examination of the gravel banks and bars in and along the Colorado river was made. The engineer appeared to be well satisfied with his samples of the ground, having panned over a large area and found colors in all the pannings. The work was done in the interest of the new corporation that is to put in a large dredge to work the river bars for their gold content.

At the regular meeting of Kingman Lodge L. O. O. M. No. 858 Thursday night the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: Dictator, F. S. Jackson; Vice Dictator, Lee Johnson; Prelate, W. P. Carr; Secretary, John A. Ellis; Treasurer, Ed. A. Shaw; Inside guard, Tom Murphy; Outside guard, Asa Le Barron; Trustees, C. R. Van Marter, F. E. Andreas and John Kravania; Sergeant-at-arms, Ben Bruffet. A. F. Harris, the retiring dictator, will represent Kingman lodge at the next National Convention of the order.

H. J. Royal and E. E. Crump, of Pasadena, arrived in Kingman the first of the week and departed to the mining property of Mr. Royal, at Bobtail Basin, the following day. It is their intention to work the property in a systematic manner, shipping the ores to the smelter. While doing the last assessment work on the mines J. J. Connolly opened a fine body of ore of high shipping grade. This shoot will be exploited and shipments made regularly. The young men believe they have a big thing and are to mine the property in the best possible manner.

George Gunn, one of the best known mining engineers in the United States, died suddenly at Salt Lake City last Tuesday. The report that reached Kingman was that he and a friend engaged in a friendly scuffle and that almost immediately he was overcome by vertigo, and died almost instantly. Mr. Gunn came to Mohave county a few months ago and made an examination of the old Hackberry properties for the interest of Thompson, Towle & Co., of New York and Boston, the largest mining operators in the country. Work had already been commenced on the properties. The death of Mr. Gunn will be a serious loss to the big mining interests of the country with which he was so intimately identified.

The Mader Boat Found.

This week Paul Mader, son of Wesley Mader, the placer miner who has been lost since the first of the year, passed through Kingman on his way to Needles, from which point he will continue the search for his father. Today Frank M. Barnes is on his way to the vicinity of the Mader placer mines and intends to go down the river by boat and will make a thorough search for Mader, alive or dead. On his recent trip down the river he found an overturned boat, apparently new, near the mouth of Jumbo wash, where Sandy Harris and a party of prospectors were at work. Harris had seen nothing of Mader, nor had he observed the boat, which was stuck on a sand bar some distance below his camp. All the men along the river have been notified and a diligent search will be made for the missing man.

Mader went from St. Louis by way of St. Thomas, to the placer mines on the river, and about the first of the year wrote his wife that he intended to start home in a few days, since which time nothing has been heard of him.

H. T. Hughes, of the Swansea Con. Smelting company, arrived in Kingman last Sunday and in company of James O'Brien, went out to make an examination of the de la Fontaine and Cupel mines. Owing to the storm his work at the properties was somewhat hampered, but it is the intention of the company to do considerable work on the mines and possibly begin the shipment of ore to the smelters as soon as the Cupel shaft has been put in shape to mine through. Mr. Hughes brought with him from Swansea samples of the new ore encountered in the 400 foot shaft on the old Copper Prince group, which shows big sheets of native copper, through which the shaft was sunk ten feet, entering the sulphide zone. The churn drill was driven seventy feet into the sulphide, and it is that part of the mine that is now being developed, as the smelter needs sulphide ore badly. The company is keeping a large force of miners at work on the mine and expect to prove it a winner.

The Los Angeles Herald of the 12th has an article criticising the officers of this county for attempting to collect tax on implements and several hundred head of mules under lease to the government, and now being used in the diking of the Colorado river below Fort Mohave, and predicting a clash between the Indians and federal authorities on the one side and the civil authorities on the other. The story is quite sensational, but it has very little basis in truth. The fact of the matter is that the assessor of this county proposed to assess and collect taxes on a large amount of individually owned property that is under lease to the government and the Indian agent warned the assessors against performing this duty, contending that property under lease to the government is not subject to taxation. The local authorities are under the impression that the agent has another guess coming and will assess and collect the tax. The opinion given the agent by U. S. Attorney Richey only referred to government owned property, which is not in question.

Judge Carl G. Krook, last Tuesday, at the residence of Robert Wright, united in marriage Laurence C. Richardson and Miss Ethel Johnson. Miss Johnson is a recent arrival from Indiana. Mr. Richardson is well and popularly known in Kingman, where the happy couple will make their home.

A Message to Railroad Men

E. S. Bacon, 11 Bath St., Bath, Me., sends out this warning to railroaders everywhere. "My work as conductor caused chronic inflammation of the kidneys and I was miserable and all played out. I was weak and had dizzy spells, and a friend recommended Foley Kidney Pills. From the day I began taking them, I commenced to regain my strength. The inflammation is gone and I feel better now than I have in twenty years." Try them. H. H. Watkins, Druggist.

Superior Court.

This week the Superior Court was engaged in the trial of the cause of Walter G. McCarthy Company against M. G. Wagner and others. This is the cause growing out of the co-partnership entered into between McCarthy company and Wagner and in which E. F. Thompson was appointed receiver some time ago. Under the judgment of the court the McCarthy interests were to settle all accounts accruing after the 15th of September, but failed to get the proper receipts, and the cause was continued until the 17th.

In the matter of the estate of John Barry, deceased, the administratrix was granted an order to sell certain ores on the dumps of the Towne mine, at Chloride.

John Kravania was granted a decree of divorce from Lilly Kravania.

J. M. Vasser was granted a decree of divorce from O. W. Vasser.

Monday next Judge Frank Smith, of Yavapai county, will hear several causes in which Judge Krook is disqualified.

John Brown and Miss Freida Jungi were united in marriage at the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. J. N. Cohenour, last Sunday afternoon, Anson H. Smith, Justice of the Peace performing the ceremony. The happy young couple are well known in Kingman, where they have grown up from childhood. Mr. Brown recently engaged in the cattle business with Judge L. M. Teale, and with his young bride will remove to the ranch within a short time. The happy young couple have the best wishes of a large circle of friends for a long life of married happiness.

An Old Timer Passes.

John C. Potts this week received a letter from W. B. Stephens, of the Big Sandy, conveying the information that H. R. McClure had died at the Stephens home on March 9, after an illness lasting more than a month. The good people of the Sandy did all in their power to nurse the aged man back to health, but death came to end his sufferings.

Hank McClure, as he was familiarly known, was born in the state of Tennessee Dec. 24, 1837, being more than 75 years of age at the time of his death. He had lived in Mohave county about forty years and was known and loved by every old timer that knew him for his many admirable qualities of heart and mind. To those that knew him well his death will come as a shock.

W. B. Stephens and Mr. Chapman, of the Big Sandy, came in from their ranches last evening and are attending to business matters in Kingman.
